Immunization Coalitions Network

The Immunization Coalitions Network provides access to information about local, state, regional, and national coalitions. An immunization coalition is an organization that brings together groups and individuals, combining their resources and talents in projects that increase immunization rates.

Healthcare professionals, parents, immunization advocates, and others may identify immunization coalitions to contact for resources, ideas, or volunteering.

Immunization Action Coalition

Description

The Immunization Action Coalition (IAC) is a 501(3)(c) nonprofit organization that is the nation's premier source of child, teen, and adult immunization information for healthcare professionals and their patients.

Mission

The Immunization Action Coalition (IAC) works to increase immunization rates and prevent disease by creating and distributing educational materials for health professionals and the public that enhance the delivery of safe and effective immunization services. The Coalition also facilitates communication about the safety, efficacy, and use of vaccines within the broad immunization community of patients, parents, healthcare organizations, and government health agencies.
